

The New
McLean Home Care & Hospice

So Much More

Free Seminars

McLean Home Care & Hospice is offering two new, free seminars inspired by The Conversation Project at your location. Seminars will be presented by a member of the award-winning McLean Home Care & Hospice team to help your community begin the conversation with their loved ones regarding wishes for care at end of life or in the event of a serious illness. Education will also be provided on several options for advance directive documents that can assist with these wishes, as well as care options for serious illnesses.

New Seminar Offerings:

“Don’t Tell Him He’s Dying – It Will Kill Him! The Trouble with Living and Dying in Our Society.”

“Baby Boomers – Will They Be the Generation That Will Change End-of-Life Care?”

Did you know that 70% of people wish to die comfortably at home, but that 70% actually die in some type of medical facility? Did you know that 60% of people say that making sure their family is not burdened by tough decisions is “extremely important,” but 56% of people have not communicated their end-of-life wishes? These new seminars are designed to help family members have meaningful conversations with their loved ones about their wishes before difficult decisions have to be made.

Bonnie Lillis is a Licensed Professional Counselor with a Master degree in Community Counseling. She has served as a Hospice Spiritual and Bereavement Counselor for the New McLean since 2008. Bonnie provides patient and family support at the end-of-life, facilitates bereavement support groups, and hosts community outreach lectures.

If you are interested in discussing the option to offer these free seminars for your community or organization, please contact Bonnie Lillis.
